Dear Mihai Oproescu,

Your paper "Mechanical ventilation device with adapted parameters to assist patients infected with the SARS-CoV-2 virus" has been included in the proceedings of ECAI-2020 to be published by IEEE. IEEE requires that an author of every published paper signs a copyright agreement.

EasyChair is a vendor authorized by IEEE to handle copyright agreements. To sign the agreement via EasyChair, you should

- (1) log in to EasyChair;
- (2) click on "Alerts" in the main menu;
- (3) click on "IEEE copyright agreement for paper Mechanical ventilation device with adapted parameters to assist patients infected with the SARS-CoV-2 virus"

If there is no such link under your Alerts menu tab, then one of the authors already signed the agreement on behalf of all authors.

Please be aware that this is an unmonitored email alias, so please do not reply to this email.

To contact EasyChair use the EasyChair contact Web page <https://easychair.org/contact>

Step 2: Log in to the EasyChair account and access the Alerts menu

Alerts

Alerts are used in EasyChair to attract your attention to something that requires your response. They are normally created as a result of actions of other people. For example, when somebody asks you to make a review, a subreviewer alert will appear amongst your alerts.

For nearly each of these alerts, you can remove them either by making your response to the alert or simple dismissing the alerts without a response.

You alerts are shown and explained below. Follow the "view" link to view or respond to them. If you do not want to a particular alert at all, click on its "dismiss" column.

Employment status = copyright status

An author's copyright status is determined to a large extent by the type of employer for whom the author works. For example, if you are employed by the U.S. Government, and you are the sole author of your paper, then you should select "Employed by United States Government."

Similarly, if you are the sole author and you are employed by a Crown Government (or if you and all your coauthors are Crown Government employees), then copyright to your paper will remain with the Crown Government. You should select "Employed by a Crown Government."
